DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

It is requested that applicants add headings to designate the above-listed sections of the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3, 10-16, 20-22, 25-30, and 34-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Guiselin et al. (5,965,246).

The claimed process is disclosed at col. 1, lines 15-20 and 65-68, col. 3, line 39 to col. 4, line 66, col. 5, lines 9-15, col. 5, line 53 to col. 6, line 5, and col. 6, lines 10-25. Please note that the disclosure of a laminated glazing inherently meets the limitation of an interlayer between the glazing panes as an adhesive layer is necessary to laminate the panes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-19 and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Macquart et al. (5,935,702) in view of Guiselin et al.

Art Unit: 1762

Macquart discloses the claimed process at col. 1, lines 50-60, col. 3, lines 1-40 and 55-66, col. 4, lines 60-65 col. 5, lines 9-15 and 36-60, col. 5, line 65 to col. 6, line 20, and col. 8, lines 25-32 and 40-50 with the exception that, although disclosing deposition of the silicon nitride, oxide, oxycarbide, or oxynitride underlayers by pyrolysis or CVD on the float glass, does not explicitly disclose depositing the under layer by CVD in combination with depositing the reflective metal layer by a vacuum deposition technique. However, because Guiselin discloses that depositing oxide or nitride underlayers on a float glass by pyrolysis and then depositing reflective and dielectric layers thereon by sputtering after cutting the float glass is effective for production of low emissivity glass and has the obvious advantage of performing a coating step during the glass manufacturing process, hence reducing overall production time, it would have been obvious to form the underlayer of Macquart by CVD or pyrolysis during the float glass process and deposit the reflective and dielectric layers by sputtering after cutting the produced glass to achieve this advantage. With respect to claim 36, Macquart discloses double glazing but not the interlayer explicitly. Formation of a laminated glazing with the structure of claim 36 would have been obvious given the use therefore disclosed in Guiselin as set forth above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

Claims 20-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Macquart.

The product made by the process of Macquart contains all of the layers with the properties claimed by applicants as set forth above and therefore, the product is deemed to anticipate applicants' claimed product.

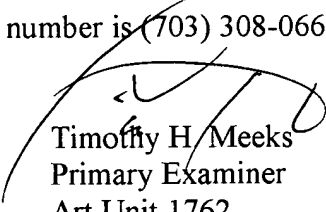

Art Unit: 1762

Alternatively, once the Examiner provides a rationale tending to show that the claimed product appears to be the same or similar to that of the prior art, although produced by a different process, the burden shifts to applicant to come forward with evidence establishing an unobvious difference between the claimed product and the prior art product. In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 289, 292 (Fed. Cir. 1983). Therefore, any difference imparted by the process of making the claimed product from the prior art is prima facie obvious absent evidence establishing an unobvious difference between the claimed product and the prior art product.
